SERVANTS IN IRELAND.

HOW THE LORDS OF THE LAND ARE LOOKED AFTER.

It takes from fifty to seventy-five Servants to Wait on a Family of Six.

The life of the servants in Irish castles, says Edgar Wallace, in a letter from Ireland to the Chicago Free Press, is a most grotesque thing. The majority of them are of the lowest class of the Irish peasantry.

Among the servants there are what might be called an upper and a lower class. The lower class are as a rule a more respectable set of people than the upper class.

The lower class are as a rule a more respectable set of people than the upper class. The lower class are as a rule a more respectable set of people than the upper class.

THE "OATS" SWINDLE.

PLAIN STATEMENTS BY INFLUENTIAL PERSONS IN THE COUNTRY.

"Bohemian Oats" may not be "bull-tails," but the notion of speculating with the oatmeal is a very risky one.

The following, which we copy from the Ottawa Citizen, will be of interest to this connection.

The Editor of the Palladium.
Dear Sir,--As I learn the Ottawa Citizen is investing in "Bohemian Oats," I send you the enclosed from the Ottawa Citizen.

There are men, presumably representing a "Fountainhead" company, trying to sell Bohemian oat, here at large prices, giving the usual bundle, etc. Would it be safe to deal with them?

Bernhard Bay, N.Y.
[The whole thing is a fraud. It is out of the way and the price of the oats. The fraud has been exposed frequently in the newspapers generally. Have nothing to do with it.]

The New York State Experiment station is now in a very hotly contested position. The Ohio and New York Experiment station, who has kindly given me his opinion of "Bohemian oats," which I enclose, feeling that it will not only protect the country farmers, but may enable them to make a great deal of money, for a dollar saved is worth two earned.

Yours very truly,
J. W. DUNNET.

My Dear Mr. Miller.
You ask me my opinion about "Bohemian Oats." I will give it very briefly. I think every man who has "Bohemian Oats" for sale and comes into a community and announces that fact, should be regarded as a fraud and under arrest and be compelled to show cause why he should not be a common, and a very common swindler. However, I think that the farmers who are buying "Bohemian Oats" are being deceived.

It is not only the farmers who are being deceived, but the public generally. The "Bohemian Oats" are being sold at a price which is not only a fraud, but a very common swindler. However, I think that the farmers who are buying "Bohemian Oats" are being deceived.

THE "OATS" SWINDLE.

PLAIN STATEMENTS BY INFLUENTIAL PERSONS IN THE COUNTRY.

"Bohemian Oats" may not be "bull-tails," but the notion of speculating with the oatmeal is a very risky one.

Dear Sir,--As I learn the Ottawa Citizen is investing in "Bohemian Oats," I send you the enclosed from the Ottawa Citizen.

There are men, presumably representing a "Fountainhead" company, trying to sell Bohemian oat, here at large prices, giving the usual bundle, etc. Would it be safe to deal with them?

My Dear Mr. Miller.
You ask me my opinion about "Bohemian Oats." I will give it very briefly. I think every man who has "Bohemian Oats" for sale and comes into a community and announces that fact, should be regarded as a fraud and under arrest and be compelled to show cause why he should not be a common, and a very common swindler. However, I think that the farmers who are buying "Bohemian Oats" are being deceived.

Fire.

About one o'clock this morning the family of Mr. A. McAdoo, Charles St., were awakened by a choking sensation, and on being thoroughly aroused found the house filled with smoke. The neighbors were awakened and with the family not to work to find out the origin of the fire. They found it came from a lounge in the sitting room, which was nearly all consumed. The family are to be commended for their promptness in first locating the cause of the fire before calling out the brigade.

The

The Hats of the Season.

We have professors of palimistry, who tell the points of character from your hand-writing; physiognomists and even astrologists, who invent the science of hats? Many men care little for the condition of their hats, but most of the other good. A man's hat often denotes his character; but who is sufficiently well acquainted with the varying grades of male headgear to point out the peculiarities of each? The latest silk hat has a narrow, curly brim, and is about the color of fish liver. The has stood. But silk hats take upon themselves new shapes about every three months. Sometimes the change is only a little narrowing or widening of the silk band. But hats have taken a new shape and color in season. They have low crowns now, brims, and are more "peaky" than a shade between gray and brown.

A Difference.

"I hear Jennings blew his brains out in New York the other day," remarked a young man to another.

"He didn't."

"Why, it was in all the papers."

"Can't be," said the other.

"Are you sure?"

Dr. J. M. Marwood, Victoria Road, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery & Food is a most valuable medicine. It is a cathartic, yet they never used anything so effective. Good results immediately follow its use. I have used it for many years, and have never having been troubled for 10 or 20 years with Deep-sea and since using this discovery goes on without that depressing feeling so well known to me in the use of other cathartics. It is a most interesting medicine in any case of Indigestion, Constipation, Heartburn, or trouble arising from the bowels." FARMER'S PILL gives the power of acting specifically up to the diaphragm or, as, stimulant

There is only one thing, however, that is not true about the medicine. It does not cure the disease of almost every man, woman and child, and the pain and suffering are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carvello, Carvello & Co., Dist. Agents, "I have treated Parnello's Pills and found them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well."

Answer to Mr. Parnello - Mrs. Winstan's letter is a beautiful illustration of what children's suffering can be. It removes the little sufferer from any previous natural, quick sleep by removing the child from pain and the mother's weeping and crying is a better illustration of the child's suffering.

It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, slays all pain, relieves inflammation, and is a perfect remedy for all ailments of the throat, chest, lungs, stomach, bowels, and all other diseases. Twenty years ago a bottle of Parnello's Pills was sold for $1.00. Now it is sold for 25 cents per box. Send for a free trial box.

Large Daily Circulation in Belleville

Belleville, Saturday, April 19, 1913.

A SCATHING DENUNCIATION.

Premier Meier, of Quebec—the boom friend, politician, of Mr. Meier, and the admirer of the Grit party in this province, who have gloried in their political methods has incurred the just indignation of the Belleville press, by the manner in which he has treated the party, by the manner in which he has treated the party, by the manner in which he has treated the party.
